WASHINGTON TOPICS

WASHINGTON, December 8, 1892.
A few moments in the White House will be noticed by Mr. Cleveland on his return to Washington. He will find the mansion illuminated throughout with electric light. He will find the mansion illuminated throughout with electric light. He will find the mansion illuminated throughout with electric light.

The paper was a Cleveland paper of January first. The Cleveland was complete in three acts.

Chalmers went on with his breakfast, as he would never admit any circumstances which "we have gone on with anything which he happened to be engaged. But this action was uncharacteristic, as after the first dawn had passed away he began to think clearly and rapidly about the matter in hand. By the time he had finished his coffee and dropped a few in the paper, the attention of the press had been every day of action systematically arranged.

"You must understand my room," he said to the man at the desk as he returned to the hotel office. "I shall go north by the first train. How soon can I leave?"

"There will be nothing new until night," he said. "The first train leaves at five. Carry your things to leave as you see fit," went on the clerk affably. "I shall take the first train," he said. "I shall take the first train," he said. "I shall take the first train," he said.

Chalmers started hard at the man and said that he had finished. Then he said: "I shall take the first train," he said. "I shall take the first train," he said. "I shall take the first train," he said.

"I have just heard," he said. "I have just heard," he said. "I have just heard," he said. "I have just heard," he said. "I have just heard," he said.

"The other was to Winston, Lanny and myself and subject to slight delay within three days. Shall wait at least one hundred thousand."

When he had said this he was not quite satisfied. He had forced himself, of absolute necessity, were before him just at the time when it was more important than it had ever yet been in his life that he should be in the city. He had to be in the city. He had to be in the city. He had to be in the city.

RESCUED FROM OPIUM.

Kellie Corbell, of Livermore, Ky., taken from the "Miller Gang" in Indiana.

TAMMEL, Ind., Nov. 28.—Late last evening Tamme was excited by the entrance of a band of gypsies or Indians, who lived by the side of "Indian medicine." They were soon overtaken by a band of armed men from English, accompanied by George Corbell, of Livermore, Ky., who was in search of his 11-year-old daughter, who had been abducted by them. He found her, to his great joy. Luckily for the abductors, they were off in search of food and bedding in their caves, and the shades of night hid them from their pursuers.

Beside this, the Evansville train was saved from being derailed by the child to her bereaved mother's arms. She had been rescued from the hands of the "Miller Gang" in Indiana.

Nellie Corbell, now in her twelfth year, is large for her age and very bright. She had been rescued from the hands of the "Miller Gang" in Indiana.

When she reached her destination she found her mother and father. She had been rescued from the hands of the "Miller Gang" in Indiana.

Three Essentials:

A man can't get along without

Coat
Vest
Trousers,

Unless it is summer and he can go in swimming. But this weather isn't good for swimming.

An Overcoat
is Handy,

But it is a luxury when compared with Cant, Vest, Trousers.

But FAIR BROS. & Co. are able to put such prices on Men's Wear that one can even afford to indulge in Col-

Mrs. R. P. Hooker, of Beaver Dam, who has been dangerously ill for some weeks, is much improved and will soon be well again.

My last guest's Fanning Goods, which I am taking at my store. That is why I sell lots of Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats and Caps. Kate's Store.

My best Blankets do my talking. I do not have to say much about them;
they sell themselves at Kuhn's best clothing house.

Mr. Henry Williams, formerly of this place, now with P. G. Coker, of Louisville, is visiting his brother, Mr.
G. H. Williams.

Hon. Wesley Crow, Ohio senator, Representative in the Legislature, is dangerously ill at his home near Newville. He has asthma.

Call on May & Co. for Fresh Meats.

Judge E. D. Walker, who has been sick long at his home here, seems to be getting better. He is greatly deliberated by what seems to be the effects of illness, and his family and friends are suffering much anxieties.

Mr. A. D. White has sold his entire interest in the Hartford Roller Mills to Messrs. J. W. Ford and John H.
Phelps. The firm's name will remain the same—J. W. Ford & Co. Mr.
White's services will be retained in the mill for a while, but he thinks some other profit for himself.

Miss Helen Foster, who for two years has been in charge of the millinery department, of Fair Bros. & Co.'s store, left for her home at Lexington, Ind., Monday. No more popular young lady has been in Hartford in a long time and her many friends hope she will soon return again.

At the home of Mr. George T. Ryan, at Schenck, Logan county, Ky., on next Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock,
Mr. R. D. Hines, of Hickman, O., T. H.
Hines, of Hickman, O., and Miss Emma Ryan, his daughter, will be married. There will be only a quiet home wedding and the young people will come back to Hartford at once, where they will make their future home.

Died, at her home at Solihull Springs, on last Wednesday, of the measles-difference, commencing Mrs. Maggie Morton Martin. Her remains were interred at the Elmwood Cemetery, at Owensboro, on the 1st inst. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Morton. The Herald extends condolence to the bereaved family in this their hour of sorrow.

Some weeks ago a beautiful church wedding occurred at Barnett's Creek Baptist church, which at the time sounded the bells of the Herald. It was that of Mr. Walker L. Park, who was married to Miss Polly A. Hoover, both of whom are popular young people in this community and they were together with the best wishes of a host of friends, including the Herald.

The lively little child who held the attention of the court yesterday, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchinson was at stake until Saturday by the jury's being discharged.
The result is disastrous to the community, as it consigns him to jail for another six months.

large stock of goods for his store.

Mrs. R. P. Hooker, of Beaver Dam,
who has been dangerously ill for some weeks, is much improved and will soon be well again.

My last guest's Fanning Goods, which I am taking at my store. That is why
I sell lots of Clothing, Boots, Shoes,
Hats and Caps. Kate's Store.

My best Blankets do my talking. I do not have to say much about them;
they sell themselves at Kuhn's best
clothing house.

Judge E. D. Walker, who has been sick long at his home here, seems to be getting better. He is greatly deliberated by what seems to be the effects of
illness, and his family and friends are suffering much anxieties.

Mr. A. D. White has sold his entire interest in the Hartford Roller Mills to Messrs. J. W. Ford and John H.
Phelps. The firm's name will remain
the same—J. W. Ford & Co. Mr.
White's services will be retained in the mill for a while, but he thinks some
other profit for himself.

Miss Helen Foster, who for two years has been in charge of the millinery department, of Fair Bros. &
ington, Ind., Monday. No more popular young lady has been in Hartford
in a long time and her many friends
hope she will soon return again.

at Schenck, Logan county, Ky., on next Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock,
Mr. R. D. Hines, of Hickman, O., T. H.
Hines, of Hickman, O., and Miss Emma Ryan,
his daughter, will be married. There will be only a quiet home wedding and
the young people will come back to Hartford at once, where they will make their future home.

Died, at her home at Solihull Springs,
on last Wednesday, of the measles-difference, commencing Mrs. Maggie Morton Martin. Her remains were interred at the Elmwood Cemetery, at Owensboro, on the 1st inst. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Morton. The Herald extends condolence to the bereaved family in this
their hour of sorrow.

Some weeks ago a beautiful church
wedding occurred at Barnett's Creek Baptist church, which at the time sounded the bells of the Herald. It was that of Mr. Walker L. Park, who was married to Miss Polly A. Hoover, both of whom are popular young people
in this community and they were
together with the best wishes of a host of friends, including the Herald.

The lively little child who held the attention of the court yesterday, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchinson was at stake until Saturday by the jury's being discharged.
The result is disastrous to the community, as it consigns him to jail for another six months.
